

N° 7256

The N° 7256 surface-mounted rim lock, sometimes called a box lock, is flanked on all sides by a complex Georgian molding. It can be used with many Nanz handles and is typically specified with either a knob or a drop ring. The deadbolt is operated with a bit key from the interior. Either a cylinder or a keyhole escutcheon can be ordered for the exterior. All Nanz plated and patinated finishes are available.
