N° 2013S

The No 2013S Georgian lever incorporates molding details which were part of the architectural vocabulary of 18th-century Neoclassicism. A straight knurl defines the extremities of the tapering handle, which ends with an ogee-shaped dome. An ogee profile is repeated on the face of the rose, which is ringed by a straight knurl. The understated classicism allows the design to be used in a variety of interiors. This handle can be used with traditional full-mortise locksets or manufactured for use with multi-point doors and tilt & turn windows. The No 2013S is available in an oversized version for use on large entry doors and is suitable with a variety of roses. All NANZ plated and patinated finishes are available.
