

N° 2150

The No 2150 lever reflects a period of mid-20th-century modernism, which infused minimalist design with a sense of elegance. The gently arched, tapering profile with upturned end suggests the aerodynamic contours of an airplane wing. This lever is ergonomically designed to fit the hand. A wide variety of alternative rose designs can be provided with this handle. It can be used to operate multi-point locking systems as well as traditional mortise locks. Recommended finishes include satin nickel, polished chrome, dark oxidized bronze and antique brass. All NANZ plated and patinated finishes are available.
