

N° 3055AF

The heavy leaf butt hinge, equipped with four load-bearing bushings, can accommodate the heaviest of doors. The No 3055AF is not only functionally stronger, but it also has a more substantial aesthetic which lends itself to important doors or public areas. Larger and smaller versions can be manufactured for different door specifications. The hinge is shown with acorn finials but can be provided with any other of our finial designs. All plated and patinated finishes are available. Bushings can be provided in a non-matching finishes if preferred.
