

N° 6721

The No 6721 thumb latch is typically used for main entry doors. It combines a Georgian style handle with a classic astragal-adorned rectangular escutcheon and can be used with a lever or knob on the interior side of the door. Shown here without a cylinder, a slightly longer version can be provided which would include the cylinder. The handle can be manufactured without the thumb latch to be used as a fixed pull. The backplate can be sized accordingly to allow for custom applications. All Nanz plated and patinated finishes are available.
