

N° 7951M.PC

The No 7951M.PC mock cremone bolt adds old-world aesthetic to any locking door. A series of coves and stepped astragals comprise the strongly architectural body, guides and keepers. Accordingly, rod length and keeper configuration will be determined during the specification process. Shown here with a keyed profile cylinder, it is also available with integral profile thumbturn. Most NANZ levers and oval knobs can be used. All NANZ plated and patinated finishes are available.
