

N° 8945

Designed as part of the Chizler Collection, the N° 8945 cabinet pull design began with hand drawings, followed by wooden models. In the studio, files, saws, chisels and scrapers are utilized to fashion masters which are in turn used to create molds. Each handle is made through the lost wax process. The textured and organic nature of this handle interacts beautifully with a range of finishes. All NANZ plated and patinated finishes are available.
