No 1003

The No 1003 Georgian knob, the very first product ever manufactured by The Nanz Company, was often used in Park Avenue apartment buildings by architects such as Rosario Candella, Mott Schmidt and James Carpenter. The face of the knob is broken by a series of steps diminishing to a cavetto with a boss at the center. The curving profile of the shank is continued by the flaring rose. This listing is for a Dummy Knob and includes a rose with a dummy/fixed spindle. Knobs are sold individually. If you require an alternate door function, please email quickship@nanz.com
