

N° 6089 SW

The No 6089 SW recessed pull has an extended lip and depth making it suitable for use on swing doors. It may also be used on pocket doors where door thickness allows. Please see the attached template for dimensions. The round, recessed finger-pull reflects the modern, functional form that became popular at the turn of the 20th century. The clean lines and even proportions, however, make this simple pull appropriate for a variety of styles and interiors. Finished to order in a wide range of finishes.
