

N° 8011

The No 8011 French Bull's Eye cabinet knob, designed by Steven Sclaroff, is based upon turn of the century drum-shaped knobs. It features deep, highly shaped ogee curves on the sides, much larger than the old French hardware that inspires it. It has a modern scale but without losing the level of detail and shape of the original. Recommended finishes include burnished brass, dark oxidized bronze, chrome, nickel or silver plate and antique gold. It can be used in combination with the companion No 2111 French Bull's Eye lever or the No 1011 knob. The knob is shown here with optional rosettes. Suitable for cabinetry, it may be used in combination with the companion French Bull's Eye lever.
