N° 6767

The N° 6767 thumbblatch pull is based on 18th century design, with rounded terminals and a bow handle. As the thumbblatch is depressed, the connected bar passing through the door raises a pivoting cross bar, disengaging it from a latch attached to the door frame. The thumbblatch extends through the door and engages a pivoting bolt. The handle is also available with leaf-shaped terminals as the N° 6157. All nanz plated and patinated finishes are available.

Handle Height: 8 1/4
Projection: 1 3/4
Cross Bar Length: 5 3/4
